

ASCENT Expands Autodesk Courseware Offering with 10 New Learning Guides

Partnerships with Industry Experts Provides Access to Highly Specialized Autodesk Product Content

Baltimore, MD— June 14, 2018— ASCENT- Center for Technical Knowledge added 10 new titles to their core Autodesk architectural, engineering and construction (AEC) learning content by partnering with select, independent expert authors and publishers. These materials focus on specialized topics not previously offered by ASCENT and are now available in print from ASCENT's online store at ASCENTeStore.com.

“Our customers want high quality learning materials on a wide range of topics, so the ASCENT team is continuously looking at different ways to expand our Autodesk courseware offerings,” says Paul Burden, director for ASCENT. “Today we’re excited to announce that we’re giving customers more choices by partnering with other publishers and authors to offer new titles that supplement our core offerings. We are committed to the continued expansion of our ASCENT eStore offerings so we are always looking for independent authors who need assistance publishing and distributing their books in North America and beyond.”

The following Autodesk Partner learning guides are now available for purchase:

- AutoCAD 2018 for the Interior Designer
- AutoCAD 2019 for the Interior Designer
